

A ReMarker special section
December 11, 2015

There's a path in life you're supposed to take. Graduate from high school, go to college, get a stable job, raise a family. But some Marksmen don't follow that cookie-cutter model. Instead, they take risks — actors, agents, restaurant owners and even carpenters. It's safe to say, these guys truly

break
the
mold.