

“I walk her to school each morning, but she likes to walk on her own after a point. I watch her go, and she looks all strong and confident,”

Mr. Steven Tye, classical rhetoric instructor, says. His daughter, Mae, started kindergarten this year.

