

Mr. Paul Johnson, humanities instructor, and his wife Erica Johnson, receptionist, are expecting their first child in February.

“My greatest fear is that he will grow up to like football,” Johnson says seriously. The name of their son is yet to be determined.

