This has been a very weird experience. Typing a half-page maximum blurb to sum up eight years of things is a difficult task. I'll start by saying Dr. Pruit, you sage wizard, you've made every day better with your presence. I guess I'll move on to memories. Playing sports and being terrible at them, not playing sports and being very good at that, sleeping back when I had spare time. As regularly crushing as it has been, Cistercian has prepared me for whatever life throws at me, except for people who aren't Catholic boys. Seriously though, I am glad to have attended this school, and to maybe be remembered in this yearbook. If anyone takes the time to read this, thanks, good luck in your life, and don't be afraid to treat yourself.

"Everything in the world is exactly the same."

-Kanye West

Hobbes: "I suppose if we couldn't laugh at things that don't make sense, we couldn't react to a lot of life."

Calvin: (after a long pause) "I can't tell if that's funny or really scary."

-Calvin and Hobbes, Calvin and Hobbes

"We're all stories, in the end. Just make it a good one."

-The Doctor, Doctor Who

"Jack, in ten years you will be dead and I will be king."

"The true journey of discovery consists not in seeking new landscapes but in having fresh eyes."

-Marcel Proust

Ever since my brother started at Cistercian, I talked about the school as if I already went there. I can't believe I have been here for 8 years. Although it's been tough, I've loved every minute. I will never forget all the good times with classmates both in and out of the classroom. Although I made it through, I wouldn't have been able to make it without the support from family, friends, and teachers. I would like to thank Dr. Pruit for being the best Form Master and mentor that anyone could ask for. DP, I will never forget all those times you grabbed me with your monstrous hands while I attempted to mimic your booming voice. I would also like to thank Fr. Anthony and Mr. Saliga for the support both of you gave me during my Cistercian career.

"I know I'll never lose affection

For people and things that went before

I know I'll often stop and think about them

In my life I love you more..."

-Paul McCartney, "In My Life"

"I find that the best way to do things is to constantly move forward and to never doubt anything and keep moving forward. If you make a mistake, say you made a mistake."

-John Frusciante

Of all the schools I have attended, Cistercian is the most memorable. I have found mentors, confidants, brothers, and myself. This school helped me deepen my intellect, responsibility, faith, and love. And I do love all of you. I'd like to thank my parents, Dr. Pruit, Fr. Anthony, Fr. Paul, and Mr. Saliga, for their counsel and sacrifices these past three years. The lessons you taught me in and out of the classroom will be carried on for the rest of my life. Finally, to all my classmates... Thanks for making my experience here unforgettable. I feel as though we've known each other since first form. I'm going to miss you. It's been good, guys.

The memories I have of Cistercian could fill a small informational manual. First form was a new and intriguing time, meeting very strange new people, freaking out about the smallest assignments and just acting without the slightest bit of common sense. Middle school was where I began doodling. As any classmate can point out I started drawing nothing more than guns and tanks. Then came high school. "John's Thing", "Installments" and numerous other inside jokes eased the growing challenge of our classes. The class's Junior year Secret Santa gave both thrills and chills. Mr. Nied's fantastic Sci-fi class. Finally Senior year characterizes our intense exhaustion. I'll be glad to see us go our different paths and succeed.
