Gregory Sims

"Basketball has been a large part of my life. There was a lot of running, teamwork and energy required to play. I remembered running laps and putting hours into practice. Our team always had jokes and pranks to pull to keep the energy up."

Jasmine Khadem

"The workload increased twice as much and the teachers demanded more from us. Despite all the work, I was still able to manage it. I planned to become an officer in some of the clubs the following year."

Madison Perch

"Moving back to Houston from Dallas was the biggest change. This was my second time moving. I saw a difference between the two cities. Dallas was not as diverse or cultured. The people here were very warm and everyone's personality complimented each other in different ways."

Martina Khurana

"I transferred from Carnegie so it was my first year here. The transition was difficult at first but I gradually found my way. I joined the swim team and one of the best parts were the support that the members gave each other during the meets."
