

winter

fall

spring

1. Photo by: Sarah Hyland

2. Photo by: Sarah Hyland

3. Photo by: Sarah Hyland

1. Dressed from head to toe in monograms, jordan culver (17) models some of her monogrammed accessories. "My mom has a monogram company and it's fun to help her and be her guinea pig for all of her new ideas," Culver said. 2. With their Kendra Scott's in hand, anna claire williams (17) and emilee eckles (18) display the love they have for their Kendra's. "I really enjoy supporting this brand and I am excited to keep my collection growing," Eckles said. 3. Seen throughout the school, these colorful pocket tees are the best for a comfy day. "Whenever I'm running late and need something quick to put on, I always go straight for one of my comfort colors or Southern tees," vallie stinchfield (15) said.

TEXAN

trends

snapchat Communicating through 3 second pictures with this app is one way friends enjoy keeping in contact. "It's nice to know that after I take an embarrassing picture it will be gone after a few seconds," larkin crouch (18) said.

remind 101 With daily reminders from each teacher, this app is quick to help the average forgetful student. "The worst, yet most helpful, feeling is when you are sitting at home thinking you have no homework and then you get a text from your teacher," karley lea (16) said.

spotify The same song over and over can get really repetitive, but with this app you can listen to any song you want. "After a while, the radio gets really annoying," claire hendricks (16) said. "It's really nice to be able to create my own playlist and not have to deal with any advertisements."

netflix With the Netflix app you can watch your favorite TV shows or movies no matter the time of day. "One of my top priorities is Netflix," lauren rogers (16) said. "I watch at least five episodes of One Tree Hill everyday. I could not get through a whole school day without the Netflix app on my phone."

instagram Sharing your favorite memories is more convenient than ever with Instagram. "I like sharing moments of my life through pictures on Instagram," kye'andre abara (15) said. "It is like Twitter except there is less drama. You should all follow me @kye_peanut"

1. Wearing one of this year's most popular accessories, students show off their watches. "I waited impatiently for two week to finally get my Apple Watch Sport. This watch makes my life easier; those two weeks were worth it," samuel hernandez (17) said.

Photo by: Sarah Hyland

2. Lined up together, students showcase their most trendy shoes. "I am so glad that Jesus sandals became a trend this year. I was surprised at first because they aren't the cutest, but they sure are comfortable," macy smith (18) said. 3. Taking advantage of the pretty day outside, sarah hyland (16) and anna pardoe (17) test out their new selfie stick. "There were definitely a lot of laughs while trying to take pictures with the selfie stick," Pardoe said.

Photo by: Sarah Hyland

Photo by: Samuel Hernandez