

Look It Up

Bae (bay) nick name: An acronym for 'before anything else', usually used when talking about a significant other.

Lana Merch (Lay-nuh Merch) noun: Objects or merchandise that feature Lana del Ray.

Literally Cannot Even (lit-ur-uh-lee can-not even) a hyperbolic phrase: An exaggerated phrase used when someone is overwhelmed or unable to do a certain task.

On Fleek (fleek) adjective: When something is right or correct, also known as 'on point'.

Totes (totes) adverb: Absolutely or completely short for 'totally'.

Turnt Up (turn-t-up) adjective: Describes the effect of being riled up and 'cray'.

Yass (yassss) exclamation: An affirmative response or an exclamation of content. Slang for 'yes'.

ZOMG (zo-em-gee) expression: An alternative form of the popular phrase 'OMG', and acronym of 'Oh my God'.

42

Selfie Stick (Sell-fee Stik) noun: A stick that can hold a cellular device on the end to enhance one's ability to take pictures of themselves.

Fangirl (fangurl) noun: One who is exuberant and/or emotionally prone to a certain subject or topic, most often a book series or show.

Ball Is Life (boll iz life) phrase: A saying that refers to the importance of sports over other life sustaining activities. Popularized by Mr. Burgard.

OTP (oh-tee-pee) noun: An acronym for 'One True Paring', usually used when someone pairs two people together that are not romantically involved.

Math Attack

9+10=21 (yes, we know it equals 19) trendy phrase: A joke that started on the vine app that has gone viral throughout the internet.

2+2=swag (math equation): A complex calculation to find the answer of swag.

43

Opening

7