

Club de Español

Members of the Spanish Club, or Club de Español, pose in front of the school for the annual group picture.

Performing in her third One Act Play, Carolyn Williams dances around the stage during a scene in "Blue Beard Had A Wife," directed by Nancy Kimbro.

1952

The East Bernard High School band performs at their annual concert for the town to showcase their hard work.

1966

1970

1986

Bring back the attitude of volunteering, making tie-blankets and breakfasts, donating to the blood drives and E-drives, and working the Book Fairs and Accelerated Reader stores. Remember going door-to-door selling everything from tamales to cokes. Relive all the times that like-minded people joined for a common cause, helping to keep East Bernard

A GOOD PLACE TO UNITE.

Coach Norma Pullen teaches her children, Lucy Reeves, Schila Clough, Courtney Krenek, and Mindi Thornton, that they can get in shape without drugs.

Dressed as cows, Jill Dusek and Ashley Milculka laugh with Zach Rivera. The students dressed up different ways to celebrate Red Ribbon Week.

1980

Before the game against Tidehaven, Buford (Jodie Cavness) poses for a picture with the varsity cheerleaders.

1993

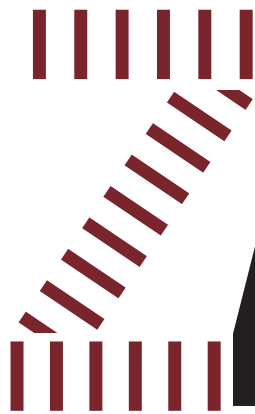

2001

Dressing up as Santa, Adam Straznicki is stuffed to the max. The elementary students wrote letters to Santa and high schoolers would replied to them in person.

SIGN STANDS FOR DECADES TO WELCOME ALL WHO PASS

As the first 100 years comes to a close for EBISD, we look back in celebration and forward in anticipation. Our past, steeped in tradition, grounds all 972 students to step forward in confidence to new experiences.

The uniqueness of “being from East Bernard” encompasses family, unity, faith and camaraderie. It is those ideals that make East Bernard

A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE.

HERE'S YOUR SIGN. The sign that beckons people to cross the river into East Bernard has been the keeper of years of memories. From floods to tropical storms to the destruction of Riverside Hall by fire, the sign still stands tall welcoming those lucky enough to call East Bernard home.

CENTURY OF TRADITION. Decked out in maroon, seniors gather together in the shape of a hundred. East Bernard Independent School District celebrated 100 years of existence from 1915 to 2015. "It made senior year even more special knowing that we weren't just celebrating our memories at this school, but the memories of the past 100 years," senior Lissa Blackert said.

JOURNALISM STANDS TOGETHER ONE LAST TIME

Celebrating the past century of traditions, gives us a reason to pause, but also move forward to make our own memories.

The classes of East Bernard ISD have celebrated successes and failures as well as elation and tragedy. It is those memories that may give us a need to possibly change
the way the sign reads to -

A GREAT PLACE TO LIVE.

WELCOME TO EAST BERNARD A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE

||| TOGETHER FOREVER. Together for one last time, the staff of The Brahma pose in front of the sign that stands as the theme of the 2015 yearbook. For the nine senior staff members and photographers, it is a bittersweet parting after many hours of hard work. Our editor summed it up perfectly. "WOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO," senior Andrew Hudgins said. "We made it."
