

"I like watching anime."
-William Moody, 9

"I like to make jewelry, earrings, rings, etc."
-Brienna Loomis, 11

"I was born four months early."
-Makalah Koenig Dominguez, 9

"I have nine siblings."
-Madeline Koury, 9

"I was adopted when I was five."
-Casey McElroy, 9

"I am German."
-Brooke McKinnon, 10

"I'm the only one with blue eyes in my family."
-Allison Netherton, 9

"I love to shop."
-Alijah Richardson, 9

"I memorized the Hamlet 'To be or not to be' monologue."
-Monica Oatman, 11

FACE TO FACE

After being hit with 32 pies, Spanish teacher Judy Sandoval is covered in shaving cream. Sandoval's classes raised $230 for Make-A-Wish, making her the highest receiver of pies. "I have been blessed in my life and I want to make sure other kids realize they've been blessed too, but they can still help in some way," Sandoval said. "We can't take away their cancer or whatever they [have], but we can help in our small way and if that's giving money and making a wish come true, then let's do it."

TOP Wearing protective goggles, Algebra II teacher Joshua Morton is hit by freshman Emily Brooks. MIDDLE Student Council made shaving cream pies for the Make-A-Wish fundraiser, March 6. StuCo raised more than $700 for Make-A-Wish recipient Lance White, a Cedar Park Middle School student. BOTTOM Sophomore Gabriela Saldana throws a pie at Spanish teacher Catherine Hawes.

Wishful thinking

Student Council's pie-throwing event raises more than $700 for Make-A-Wish recipient

"Mr. Syner was my favorite because nothing bad happened to me. I would throw pies in teachers' faces all day if I could."
-Demetrius Sullivan, 11

"I enjoyed it, it was fun. Surprisingly or not, my son is one that pied me. He bought a pie with extra shaving cream."
-Jan Carpenter, RN

"I enjoyed that it seemed to be fun for the students. I wanted to challenge myself to do something I wouldn't normally do."
-Teresa Gazella, English

"It was fun because Mrs. Gazella is one of my favorite teachers. I felt bad because it looked like it hurt. I hit her in the face and I had her class next, but she admitted it didn't hurt that bad."
-Charles Stroud, 10

"It was good to raise the money for the kid who did not have a lot like anyone else, and to help him and his family go on the trip of his dreams."
-Savannah Wells, 10

"I enjoyed seeing the student body rallying together to help a boy who is going through a really difficult challenge."
-Daniel Hudson, English

1. Wrapped in a garbage bag, World Geography teacher Janet Howard (right) prepares to be hit with a pie by freshman Cassidie Cox. 2. Sophomores Madison Turquette and Amara Smallwood wait their turn in the cafeteria. 3. Freshman Natalie Jenkins hits World History and World Geography teacher Carlos Martinez. 4. Junior Trent Riek throws his pie. 5. US History teacher Michael Hjort in the aftermath.