#Our Staff MUSTANG YEARBOOK

This year we have 20 students on our yearbook staff. We have four editors, Steffi Pointer (12), Alissa Evans (12), Makayla Smith (12) and Callie Thornton (10). Over the summer Mrs. Lemons took McKenna Yauck and Alissa Evans (12) to Nashville, Tennessee to tour the Jostens Plant and watch how yearbooks are put together from schools from all over the country. Our staff is very hard working and dedicated. During the various yearbook classes, the staff members would go around getting quotes, and pictures of the many things that went on during the school year. Being on staff gives students the opportunity to experience school activities from a different point of view.

"Being in Yearbook for my first year was great. Being new to the school and getting to design pages helped me socialize with other people."

-Caitlin Haskell(11)

our Stangs

Our school is full of bright and unique students. We will all be going our separate ways and saying our goodbyes, but we will always have our memories to look back on. Our seniors are graduating and starting their lives by attending college, enlisting in the military, and joining the work force. Underclassmen are getting ready for the next year by training to be better athletes and striving to become better students. Teachers are preparing for the year by attending summer workshops and by gathering new lessons.

This is Our Life, Our School, Our Story.

#Determination 🛕

Earlier in the year, Taylor Fouquet suffered from a hip injury during cross country. She worked hard during basketball season with some vigorous rehab and was able to play in a few games during district. After the season, she went through surgery and expects a full recovery.

Lady Stang Varsity Basketball

The Lady Stangs had an outstanding season, finishing with an overall record of 27-5 and ending as bi-district champions. "It's always a great season when you're playing for something bigger than yourself," Cooper proclaimed. No matter what, everyone had each other's back. After losing key players, senior Steffi Pointer and sophomore Taylor Fouquet, to injuries at the beginning of the season, everyone stepped up their role and worked harder to get better as a team. Pointer and Fouquet worked hard and made it back in time to play in district. The Lady Stangs stayed after practice and worked on getting better individually for their teammates; whether it was making those extra free throws to prepare themselves for close games or ball-handling, they never stopped improving their game. The team's extra work noticeably paid off throughout the season. These girls made it to top 20 in the TGCA poll for twelve weeks, top 10 for six weeks, and #1 for two weeks. The Lady Stangs made a name for themselves and were well respected throughout the state. One of their biggest wins was in round two of district against Farwell where they pulled out a 57-54 win. The girls finished second in district and went two rounds deep into the playoffs, where they fell to Gruver. "I was very proud of how our team continued to grow and develop," Coach Cooper said. "We became a team that was tough to defeat. Our strong desire to win was eclipsed by our absolute disgust of being defeated. That is a true sign of a great team."

Some special memories of the team included Hailey Bennett tripping and falling almost every game, or Hannah blazing down the court dribbling at full speed. Another great moment was when Jenna Cooper swished a three pointer, got fouled, and everyone went crazy, including the bench and Coach Cooper in Farwell. The Lady Stangs have a special bond and a very bright future.
