BIG GREEN TRACTOR Practicing for the junior tractor mechanics team, freshman Dalton Schmidt finds the problem. This was his first year to compete. "I liked working with my team because we all understand each other," Schmidt said. (Photo by Alyssa Schulte)

CREATIVITY

STUDENTS GET CREATIVE By Meredith Kunz

SPOOKY Focused on the project, sophomores Shelby Aubuchon and Brooklyn Kopecky carve a pumpkin. Aubuchon took the class because she heard it was a fun learning experience. "My favorite item that we made was the homemade biscuits," Aubuchon said. (Photo by Laura Kubend)

Not all learning comes from a textbook, sometimes you have to dive in head first.

Classes include culinary arts, interior design, accounting, ag classes, and computer classes.

In culinary arts, students explore different types of food and how to make them.

"I believe that I will use the skills that I learned in culinary arts when I grow up," sophomore Brooklyn Kopecky said. "So I'm glad I took the class."

In interior design, students learn how to design houses and how to decorate them.

"I think interior design is very interesting," senior Corrina Navarro said. "But I don't want to go into interior design as a career."

The subject area needs appeared to be clear to students.

"We need to learn skills that we can use in life," sophomore Kayla Rieger said. "Things such as cooking and doing our taxes."

TASTY TREATS Stuffing his face, junior Timothy Gorham eats butter on a cracker. Gorham has been taking ag classes for three years and plans to continue throughout his high school career. "I took the class because I loved food and figured why not learn about it," Gorham said. (Photo by Tara Kubena)

A LITTLE FLOWER NEVER HURT ANYONE

"I love floral design because all of my friends are in it and we get to make stuff together," junior Savannah Cessna said. (Photo by Lauren Stolle)

"I took floral design because I needed a relaxed class since senior year is hard," senior Katelynn Leonards said. (Photo by Evan Delgado)

"My favorite project we have done so far was the Valentine's Day carnations," junior Kirsten Cavness said. (Photo by Evan Delgado)

"I like floral design because it is an easy, chill class that I can hang out with my friends in," junior Kristen Morse said. (Photo by Evan Delgado)

"I took floral design because I really enjoy making arrangements that are beautiful," junior Elizabeth Britton said. (Photo by Jeremy)

"My favorite thing we've created was the homecoming mums," sophomore Kinley McPaul said. (Photo by Jeremy Hough)
