

Chemistry Magic

In December, the chemistry class had another draw-attention experiment: Create glass candy from sugar, water and corn syrup. The students had different options when it came to deciding the flavors.

Some created maple rum and some created a royal-purple colored orange candy. "Candy is just one of the many things that bring savory joy to life," senior chemistry student Alan Bush said.

Focus on the Sugar

Juniors Xylon Martin and Mason Miller watch as their candy finishes the last stage of the process.

A Roaring Boil

Senior Bradie Dodson watches the temperature gauge as her group's candy finishes the boiling process.

Photo by Lisa Roskens

Boiling Mad

Bradie Dodson and Alan Bush create the purple mixture on the right out of sugar, corn syrup, water and food coloring. "It was as purple as the royal robes of Jesus, but it tasted like orange," junior Garet Rocha said.

Photo by Bradie Dodson

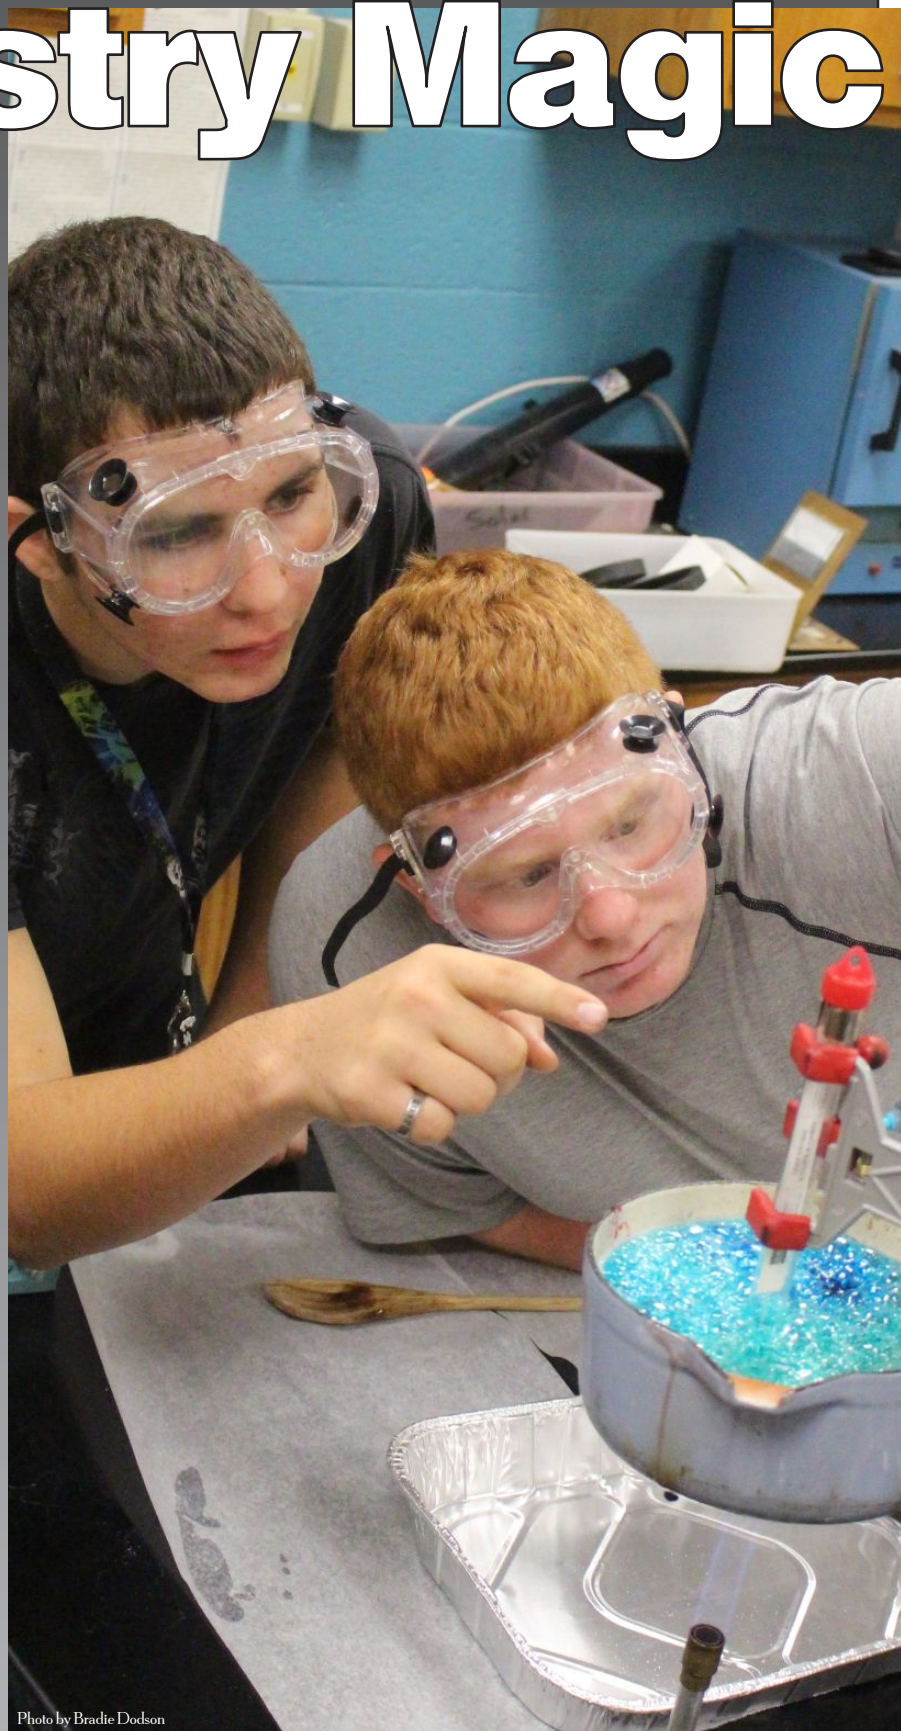

Photo by Bradie Dodson

April

May

June

July

August

September

Junior High Battles Patriots

Junior high boys and girls traveled to Valley to participate in a game with the junior high Patriots. The boys won 30-28. During the boys game, lead scorer was Braedon Williams with 11 points, but not too far behind was Gunner Lamb with nine points. The girls lost the game 8-55. Lead scorer for the girls game was Aubrey Ritter with five points.

Photo by S. Ritter

Jumping High

Mallie Williams goes straight up, making sure she doesn't foul.

Keep Shooting

Colby Linquist goes up for the shot.

Photo by S. Ritter

Photo by S. Ritter

Keep The Ball Away

Braxton Johnson protects the ball from the defense, looking for someone to get open.

Down The Court

Justina Coronado dribbles the ball down the court.

Photo by S. Ritter

More Tournament Time ...

The 'Ettes lost to Shamrock with a score of 35-54 in the Fort Elliott tournament. The next game was against Silverton, but they fell short once again, 17-53. The first game the Tigers played was against the Lefors Pirates; they won the match-up 30-29. The lead scorer was junior Xylon Martin with nine points, and senior Cade Ruthardt and junior Mason Miller both with six points. The next round, the Tigers played with Shamrock and struck out, losing 29-63. Senior Nate Roskens and junior Mason Miller led the Tigers with eight points, with junior Jeffrey Marshall contributing seven more. The last game, the Tigers played the Silverton Owls, and won with a score of 27-26. Junior Carson Ritter helped with nine points, while Roskens lead the team with 13 points.

Photo by S. Ritter

D-Up

Freshman Madison Friemel plays defense, preventing a clear passing lane.

Photo by S. Ritter

A Little Dribble

Sophomore Lauren Kuehler dribbles the ball down the court and past the defender.

Photo by S. Ritter

Ballin'

Junior Leslie Germany dribbles the ball and gets around the Silverton player.

Patsy, Positivity, Pets Propel Her

Morgan Trevino

Patsy Cline is sophomore Morgan Trevino's favorite singer. Trevino is known for her quiet presence and the few words she spoke, were filled with positivity. Mrs. Angela DeMine named Trevino as student of the day, for being, "a very good group member." When Trevino grows up, she planned to become a veterinarian. "I've always had a lot of animals at home, so I really enjoy them." Teachers are Trevino's favorite thing about school. "They are always kind." Trevino's favorite class is Algebra II. In her downtime, she enjoys reading. When asked, she said she looks up to her big sister, Erica. "She has had to overcome so much with being deaf," Trevino said. "She doesn't let anything stop her." -Caroline Britten

Photo by Madison Friemel

Keeping it Classy

Morgan Trevino makes signs to her friends before a football game. Trevino, who actually is fluent in sign language, was a cheerleader for the 2015-2016 school year.

Picture of the Day

Photo by William Kelly

Partridge in a Pear Tree

Samantha Short, Saffron Eugea, Payton Trevino, Mark Meyer, Cael Ruthardt, Trace Parker, Damon Kuehler, Phineas Eugea and Skyler Siler prepare for the program under the direction of music teacher Mrs. Melanie Britten. The program is set for Dec. 8 and featured the kindergarten through sixth-grade students.