

FORMAL EDUCATION

Morning on Campus

“Having the Middle Schoolers on the same campus provides us with another perspective, it makes us think about what we say and do before we act. It’s quite a responsibility to know that you’re setting an example every day,” said sophomore Mike Garnett (on the left).

“I look up to high schoolers and learn from the way they behave. I go to sports games and I imagine what it will be like for me when I am a high schooler playing sports through Cistercian. I enjoy being the water boy for the football team, and I enjoy being with high schoolers because they teach me things that I never knew about,” noted 6th grader Landry Pingel (on the right).
