

WO takes over G-Force for after prom

THE PARTY never stops

Taking the ball from Dax Davis [12], Landry Sheridan [12] attempts to dunk the ball. After prom was at G-Force this year, and the guys had their fair share of fun on the basketball goals.

Go-Pro in hand, Heath Hood [10] smiles at his friends after winning his prize. The names of everyone who attended after prom were put in a pot and drawn every hour.

All smiles, Lane Croft [12] pulls back to throw the dodgeball. During the dodgeball tournament, the Globo Gym Purple Cobras took first.

With high stacks of chips, former G-Force employee Isaac Rodriguez [11] thinks about what to bet against Colleen Pulpan [11] and Kyle Munoz [11]. Rodriguez won $50.

Hands on the wheel, Lauren Ummel [12] revs up for go-kart racing. As people showed up, they signed up in groups for their races. "It was hard because I was tired," Ummel said. "I was pumped, though."

Clinging to the straps above the pit, Kennedy Lobley [12] looks at a friend while she climbs. G-Force had multiple pits with obstacles above them.

The red carpet rolls out and they all pile out of their limo, adjusting their dresses and tuxedos as they walk to the entrance of the church. It's easy to pick out couples in their coordinating colors. The theme may have been black and white, but many girls didn't limit themselves to just the two, showing up in their dream dresses, regardless of color. With weeks of anticipation under its belt, the Black & White Ball was held Saturday, April 16, at First United Methodist Church and led into after prom at G-Force.

"Prom is a time for everyone to just let loose and have fun, and it's obvious that some people let loose more than others," Landry Seimears [12] said. "I cannot dance, and neither can most of my friends, but all of our combined efforts definitely brought a lot of laughs and a lot of fun."

From the beginning of promenade to the end of afterprom, every student involved made sure to have fun on the dance floor, stage and in the foam pits at G-Force.

"My last prom was the most fun," Carlos Camacho [12] said. "It was my last time to go to one so I wanted to go out with a bang. I didn't care how I looked dancing. All I wanted to do was have fun, and I did."

Dolled up for prom, Morgan-Taylor Thomas [10] and Luisa Soto [10] dance together. Friends normally kept to their groups at prom. "It was one of the best experiences of my sophomore year," Soto said. "We killed it on the dance floor."

Stopping to pose at Promenade, Brittney Schroeder [12] and Michael Maly [12] share a laugh after Maly reveals a Captain America t-shirt under his tux. Promenade was a time at prom dedicated to showcasing the seniors.

Students make prom memorable

Breaking DOWN & UP

Dancing to the music, Landry Seimears [12] and Olivia Sipes [9] dance together at the black and white ball. It was normal for the girls to take off their heels after Promenade so they could dance comfortably. "We knew how to get down on and off the basketball court," Sipes said.

All smiles, the 2016 track and field team crowds together for a fun group picture. Every year at prom, the members of each sport or organization come together in the middle of the dance and take photos together.

Proud Moment: "I helped an autistic kid hunt Easter eggs." Austyn Smith [8]

"I felt proud when I yanked my brother back from almost getting bit by a copperhead." Olivia Carr [6]

"When I got the department superstar award. I thought it was the best thing ever. I felt so smart." Jordan Dumas [6]

"When I went on the band trip to Canton. After we had played, Mr. Whatley had brought out a trophy and it was a 1st division." Andrew Williams [6]
